SANG IN CHINESE.
Three Children of Rev. and Mrs. E. H.
Smith at Farwell Reception.
A reception was given on Wednesday evening by the Missionary society in the chapel of the First Congregational church to Rev. and Mrs. Edward H. Smith, who soon return to China. Miss Susan Hyde presided at the opening exercises and spoke words of welcome. She read the travelers' palm, the CXL.
Rev. C. A. Northrop spoke in his usual happy way of life on a desert island, and the gradual growth of business. What one man does, everything is interested in. Within the next few years many things will come to pass. Things are moving faster in China than they are here, owing to the Chinese who have been educated here and to the Chinese missionaries who have gone there.
It seems best for the Smith family to get back to China as soon as possible, he said. They are headed there.
We give them Godspeed. We want to feel that they are our foremost pickets on the line!
Prayer by the Rev. G. H. Ewing followed. Rev. E. H. Smith then spoke briefly. He referred to the Lathrop sisters and to the missionary spirit in his home church. "We like to go out with such a Godspeed as this," he said. "One thing pleasanter than to stay right here is to go back! China is on top! The day we are twelve hours ahead. China has moved faster, during the last three years, than in 3,000 years before. We are looking forward to spending Christmas over there. We may be a God may abundantly bless you and make you fruitful!"
A Chinese umbrella and banner were displayed. The three Smith children sang in Chinese. Refreshments fancy crackers, wafers and lemonade followed the social greetings of those present.
Hogs Sell High.
And among other records being broken the News recorded the breaking of the high price record for hogs on the Fort Worth market last Wednesday. On the day before A. F.
Downey of Marlow, Okla., sold eighty-nine head of that market at the extraordinary price of $5.02 1/2 per hundred. These hogs were kept on grass till July 15, when they were put on corn. They averaged 500 pounds each and brought their owner $1,220.41.
From which it would seem to the average man that "pigs is pigs."—Gal-

PHYSICAL DIRECTOR BEGINS DUTIES
Lessing Bandlow Comes Here for His Work at the Y. M.
C. A.—Gymnasium Season to Open Next Month.
Lessing Bandlow, the new physical director at the Y. M. C. A., began his duties there Wednesday, having come here the day before to be on time for the beginning of his year, which dates from September 15. On his first day, Physical Director Bandlow was at his desk, getting acquainted with some of the details of the local association, and meeting the members who dropped in to the noon hour introduced by General Secretary Frank H.
Merrill.
By his frank and cordial greeting and straightforward earnestness, which produced an exceedingly favorable impression, giving the promise that the athletic work in his hands would be under capable direction and would sustain it as one of the popular sides of the association. Mr. Bandlow, who comes from Cleveland, O., has been spending his vacation in the east, part of the time at Stonington, which is his first vacation spent within reach of salt water, which has been a very pleasant experience for him. He has also spent some time in Springfield, Conn., coming from there to Norwich.
The new physical director is a graduate of the Springfield Training school, where he was the organizer and director of the mandolin club for three years, a member of his class indoor and outdoor track teams and on the gymnastic teams two years.
He organized an athletic association in Park church and has coached basketball, association football, basketball, and track teams. For two years he published the training school souvenir calendar and taught a boys' Bible class for the same time.
In Cleveland he had an extensive athletic experience, belonging to the German Turnverein for ten years, also being a member of the leaders of the gymnastic team of the Central association. He has been a physical director at Kenne, N. H., and connected with playgrounds, work at Cleveland and Winnipeg.
He expects to have the gymnasium season here open actively shortly after the first of October.

GROTON WHALING CAPTAIN BELIEVES BOTH MEN
Thinks Cook and Peary Have Each Been at North Pole—Has Had Considerable Experience Himself.
Perhaps no other deep sea mariner has taken more interest in the Cook-Peary controversy than Capt. John O.
Spicer of Groton, who is in his 71st year and has been connected over half a century with the whaling industry, his last voyage being in 1906 in the schooner Era, which was subsequently lost off the Newfoundland coast.
Captain Spicer's father north was in 1857 in the whaling ship, sailing as far as Spitzbergen and reaching 82 degrees north latitude.
"Dr. Cook has undoubtedly discovered the north pole and so has commander Peary. I have always contended that the routes followed by both these explorers were the proper ones, and that the reports which contain interviews with me a quarter of a century ago will corroborate my statement," says Capt. Spicer regarding the dispute.
"The tube with the American flag, documents, etc., left at the pole by Dr.
Cook, will, if found at all, be picked up on the east coast of Greenland, from 100 to 150 miles from the pole.
Peary's flag has drifted, perhaps 50 miles or more from the pole by this time, in the same direction as Cook's tube."
"I admire Peary's pluck. He always said he could not wait to drift, but would finally make a dash for the pole. The reports of the expedition the ice in the polar region has been one of the topics that has interested me mostly. I made a run over 41 miles of ice with a dozen dogs and a man one-half hour on one occasion, and at another time was two days covering the same distance. Another time I took a tone of coal across the ice in the same number of dogs in nine hours."
Captain Spicer spent considerable time in his whaling ventures at 73 degrees. He spent 11 winters with the Eskimos and can speak their language.
Should Dr. Cook be compelled to bring Eskimos to the pole to support his story they would prove very poor witnesses. They are great observers, can draw charts, but can tell very little about distances. They put them on a stand and let them attempt to tell a straight story, they will fail.
Captain Spicer says that the Eskimo will tell their story in their own way, but it is by no means an easy matter to interpret their statements literally.
AT BROADWAY THEATER.
The Merry Widow.
The return of the Merry Widow to the Broadway theater was welcomed and heartily enjoyed by a large audience on Wednesday evening, and a production fully as successful and pretty as that seen here last season was given.
Curtain call after curtain call being given and generous responses made.
The company was excellent and nothing was omitted from the usual fine provisions made by a Savage management.
The operetta is a mad whirl of melody and fun, the strength of the production lying in its excellent music and clean fun. It is intended to drive away dull care and it is most successful. The stage settings in all scenes are excellent and the costumes new and gorgeous.
Mabel Wilber's Widow is a clean cut conception of a woman who is attractive even seductive, without being in the least vulgar or unwomanly. She has a rare and rich charming voice, opportunity for the display of which was abundant, at best in the Villa song.
Charles Meakins as Private Danilo was a "Prince Charming" and a dashing and daring as well in versatile acting, in voice, in presence, he met the requirements of a very difficult part.
The first line character, Ambassador Popoff, which would have been a stick to lead, was played by a man who is to the limit of his excellent possibilities by R. C. Graham, who drew from him some of the best humor of the evening. Arthur Wheeler did not cleverly the stock comedy act as Nish the messenger. Julia Brewer moved gracefully and ably plays Natalie, the ambassador's daughter.
All down the line the company was a good one.
Cynthia Perot and Viola Knapp had the dances of the evening, and they the final act and executed them with grace and a realistic abandon. The Marsavian dances and famous Merry Widow waltz were rendered well and elicited liberal applause.
Mr. Savage's own orchestra completed the effect by its superior rendition of the music. In this orchestra E. A.
Parks of this city is drummer.
The chorus work was excellent, being well balanced and strong, and too few were the numbers in which the entire chorus participated. All the songs were heartily received, Mabel Wilber and Charles Meakins in their duet being particularly pleasing, while Harold Binkley displayed a rollicking tenor voice, which was heard with delight.
HEBREW HOLIDAY.
Observances Under Way with Services in Local Synagogues.
The unusual quiet of the neighborhood of West Main, Cove and High streets on Wednesday evening after sunset left no doubt that the Jewish residents and storekeepers of this section were faithfully observing Rosh Hashana, or the Hebrew New Year.
This is religiously kept both by orthodox and reformed Jews alike. At sunset Wednesday all work ceased and offices were placed in the store doors that they were closed on account of the holiday. Some stated that they would open again Friday morning, while others will not be open till Saturday evening.
In observance of the holiday there will be morning services in the synagogue both Thursday and Friday, marking the 5769th anniversary of the creation of the world, according to the Hebrew calendar.

WEDDING.
Engler-Kingsley.
At Grace Episcopal church at Yantic at four o'clock Wednesday afternoon the wedding of Miss Grace May Kingsley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Kingsley, of Yantic, and Louis Thomas Engler, son of Mr. and Mrs.
Charles F. Engler of this city, a traveling salesman for the Lee & Osgood Co., took place, the ceremony being performed by Rev. M. J. Simpson, rector of the church. There were many in attendance. The best man was Warren W. Chapman and the bridesmaid, Miss Anna Belle Talbot of Willantic. The wedding music was played by Mrs. Simpson. The ushers were Raymond Congdon and Peter Van Wart.
The bride wore a handsome princess gown of white messaline cut en train with trimmings of embroidered silk. She wore a veil caught with lilacs of the valley and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid wore lavender silk and carried roses.
A reception was held at the bride's home following the ceremony and in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Engler left for a wedding trip and upon their return will reside at Yantic with the brides' parents. Many handsome presents were received showing the esteem in which the couple are held. The bride's gift to her maid was a ruby ring and the groom gave his best man a signet ring and to the ushers neckties.
The church was handsomely decorated by Langenbach and many were in attendance from out of town.

TAFTVILLE
Roy-Cote Wedding—Various News
Briefs of the Village.
At 7.30 Wednesday morning in the Sacred Heart church, Leo Roy and Miss Marie Claire Cote were united in marriage by Rev. Arthur O'Keefe.
Z. Donahue was best man and Miss Maria Cote, a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. After the service at the church there was a wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's parents on Providence street, at which a few of the intimate friends of the bride and groom were present. After a trip to Fall River, Woonsocket and Boston, the couple will return to Taftville and reside with the bride's parents on Providence street. Mr. Roy is a weaver in the Ponemah mill.

To Study in Holland.
Sister Ignatius Mary of the Academy of the Holy Family in Baltic was the guest of her mother, Mrs. Rosalie Brouthers, on Providence street on Tuesday. She goes to Holland next Monday where she will study a year after which she will be professed.

Attended Willimantic Fair.
The following people from Taftville attended the Willimantic fair on Wednesday: Nathan Bushnell, Raymond Charlier, Henry Fontaine, Charles Bushman, Peter Maynard, Miss Margaret Farrell, Edward Bushnell, Dr.
Tomponson, Fred Charlier, Frank Leffler, Mrs. Harry Bell, Miss Julia Brouthers, Mrs. Murphy, Joseph Chapman, P. Michael, Mrs. G. G. Grant, Anthony Fournier and Miss Beatrice Edmundson.

Hunting Trip to Maine.
Phillips Dion is away on a hunting and fishing trip in the northern part of Maine and in Canada. Mr. Dion will be gone two weeks, and will visit friends in several cities before his return.

Tris of Cornetists.
Another cornetist has arrived in Taftville and now there are three cornetists within 200 feet of the postoffice. On almost any evening people going for mail may listen to three cornetists playing the season's new three play together and each one a different tune, the listeners get the sweet of it.

Football Practice.
Leo Jacques' football is making great headway in the preliminary practice, all the boys showing speed and willingness to work. The ball owned by last year's eleven and which has seen many a hard game has recently been purchased and practice is now on in full swing.

Admedas Benoit is out of the mill this week on account of illness.
The Taftville hotel on Merchant avenue is being repainted and altered.
Joseph Pion and family of Plainfield are the guests of the season. Thomas Brouthers on South B street.
Wilfred Gaucher has returned from a visit of five weeks with relatives in St. Dimos, Canada.
Thomas Hendrick has returned to his home on School street after spending the summer at Fishers Island.

Musk Ox as a Delicacy.
Never tasted musk ox, did you?
Never saw one, perhaps, they do not abound in Indiana. If you really wish to make a meal of musk-ox meat you will have to go well up in the Arctic regions, where it constitutes one of the delicacies of the season. Seasoned with walrus blubber and washed down with melted fat of the polar bear, it does fill up on and, from all accounts, is a good preventive of the scurvy. The musk ox is larger than a big sheep and smaller than a small cow—about the size of small wash and Scotch cattle. He wears horns and most of his body is covered with long brown hair, thick, matted and curly on the shoulders. There is also a thick, woolly under fur which is shed in the summer, or what they call summer in the frozen north. The animal wears the hair to keep him warm, and it is not eaten, even by the Eskimos. It is gregarious in habits, usually goes in small herds, and, though very short-legged, is fleet footed. It is almost as timid as a sheep, and is very dangerous except when one tries to eat it.—Indianapolis News.

A Born Reformer.
William Lloyd Garrison was a successful Boston merchant, but this fact counted for less in his career than it usually does. The son of the great abolitionist, he was a born reformer.
Some of his most important discoveries. His convictions were of the interest and he expressed them forcibly. His services, in behalf of tariff reform, were particularly useful, as a champion of the single tax, or woman suffrage, of "anti-imperialism" and other issues, he illustrated the capacity of the born reformer for taking the wrong side of the question, but such men as he, even when they are mistaken, exercise an influence on the community which must be regarded as working for good. The nation with citizens like William Lloyd Garrison is fortunate.—Providence Journal.

Cataracts Cannot Be Cured with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease.
Cataract is a blood or constitutional disease, and is cured by the use of medicines that take internal remedies.
Hall's Cataract Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and surfaces. Hall's Cataract Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in his country for years and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best drugs known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing CATARH. Send for testimonials

Advance in Meat Prices.
Another advance in the price of meats is announced, and again the explanations offered for it are vague and unsatisfactory. The simplest, and for many, the most plausible, theory of the successive rises is that "the trust" is implacably carrying out its favorite policy of widening the differences between what it pays for live cattle and what it gets for dead ones.—New York Times.
